SPURIOUS

Is Libelous "Oath" of Knights of Columbus Circulated in Campaign.

The Catholic America, a weekly periodical, contained the following in its issue of March 1:

"The Congressional Record of February 13, gives a detailed account of the protest of Eugene Bonniwell against the seating of Thomas S. Butler, as representative of the Seventh congressional district of Pennsylvania. Mr. Bonniwell alleged, among other reasons of his complaint, that the libelous 'oath' of the Knights of Columbus was circulated to his detriment in the recent campaign. The committee on elections examined the charges and decided that, though the circulation of the 'oath' was admitted yet, Mr. Butler not only did not cause or encourage its circulation, but frequently repudiated it, and denounced it as spurious. The other charges were found to be sustained by the evidence, and Mr. Butler was declared entitled to his seat. One good reason of the investigation is, that Mr. Butler thus officially goes on record as declaring the 'oath' to be spurious and the committee itself has decided that it could not stigmatize too strongly the false and libelous article referred to in the prayer of Mr. Bonniwell, which was the spurious Knights of Columbus 'oath.' It also condemns the publication of the editorials which excite religious prejudice in a political campaign. Catholicism will be grateful to learn of this vindication of the Knights, and will be able to refer to this official repudiation by their Congressional representatives of attempts to excite religious bigotry in political contests."
